Risk Against Reward: How I survived the American Justice System

Carl Battie is the author of a gripping true-crime memoir chronicling a life spent navigating high-stakes schemes across England, Spain, Germany, and the United States. Labelled a criminal mastermind by the Federal DA in Dallas, his career in sophisticated financial crime, bank fraud, and real estate scams eventually led to a high-profile arrest in Decatur, Georgia, and over a decade in some of America's most notorious prisons. More